General Manager’s Report to the New Wave Corporation Board of Directors
February 6, 2007

Financial Affairs –
• Financial statements
  • Audit update:
    ▪ John Clark and I met with Jack Beard of Casey and Company on Thursday, January 11, for an interview required for the audit about internal controls of management and accounting with regard to fraud risk. Jack said at that time that the audit would be ready to present to the board at the February meeting. He asked that Joan be placed early on the agenda. Our FSR is due February 28, 2007.

  • 990 hiring:
    ▪ I believe that John Clark is best able to prepare our 990 report to the IRS. Not only has he years of training and experience in accounting and nonprofit law and the preparation of 990’s, he also knows our accounts and our organization, and he did the preparation of last year’s 990 gratis. His bid is lower than Casey and Company’s. Just because he is an employee—who regularly donates time over and above overtime—doesn’t make him unemployable for special tasks not in his job description. I believe that if we are going to hire a task done that we should hire someone within the organization if they are qualified, all things being equal.

- Transmitter update:
  - The interior carpentry, the air conditioning and ventilation installation, and the new door installation is all done.
  - All of the ordered equipment including the new transmitter is now in hand. We will begin installing the new transmission line. This will require our being off-air for hours at best, days at worst. The ice is limiting access at the present.
  - Charlie Turner, Sam Griffin, Rich Winkel and I have been working on implementing the webstreaming of our broadcast signal as soon as possible. It is my desire to be able to promote our stream before we need to go off-air for the transmitter upgrade so that at least some of our audience can stick with us. Charlie has successfully test streamed our air signal using a pocket tuner and the green room PC. That PC has been moved into production room where it will be fed a signal from the program out of the air board. Rich is developing the ability to stream from our file server as well, so we will have a redundant system.
  - I have received a base bid of $9,000.00 for the rewiring of the transmitter shed, with an alternate addition of $1,500.00 for emergency disconnects, from Mid Missouri Electric. This bid is based on upgrading our service panel from 200A to 400A. I have never heard back from Meyer Electric despite calling them twice.
  - Gary Froeschner is working up an electrical load analysis and wiring diagram for the shack. When we last spoke he was optimistic about our not needing a panel upgrade, but his analysis is not yet done.
Resource Development –
- Membership drive report: see attached Development Director’s report.
- Possible resource development committee: see attached Development Director’s report.
- Annual report: I will have a report for Sunday’s meeting.

Programs and Services –
- Program Committee update: see attached Committee Chair’s report.
- Reel-to-reel Project: see attached Project Director’s report.
- Ragtime Festival update:
  - Since the last Board meeting, Dennis Sentilles has taken the initiative to talk with Bill Clark. Bill took the matter up with Lucille’s husband, Jim Denninghoff.
  - John and I tried to schedule meetings with Lucille to work on the budget but she was unable to meet due to illness.
  - Lucille organized a steering committee for the Festival, invited the staff to its inaugural meeting on Thursday, January 11, and then the next day withdrew the invitation.
  - The day after the meeting Lucille called me to say that she felt that bureaucratic constraints of budget, contracts and meetings were driving the joy from the event for her and that she felt humiliated. It was a contentious and unhappy phone call.
  - On Wednesday, January 17, 2007, I received an email from Lucille resigning her position as producer/director of the J.W. “Blind” Boone Ragtime & Early Jazz Festival.
  - I have called Lorah Steiner of the Columbia Convention and Visitors Bureau to discuss the implications with her. She was not in when I called and has not yet returned my call.
  - The staff is now discussing options. Time is short.
- Kimberly Kimbrough, BlackMissouri Editors blackmissouri1@yahoo.com BlackMissouri.com, came by and talked to Julie Baka about wanting to do this for KOPN's Blind Boone Festival....
  - Tom Verdott has offered to help with contacting and coordinating with the artists.
  - Lucille has not yet responded to my email request for a list of persons with whom we have commitments.
New business –

- NFCB Conference:
  - The 32nd Annual Community Radio Conference will be held in New Orleans, April 11-14. In years past KOPN has organized and facilitated attendance by staff and volunteers by organizing car pools or subsidizing registration in part. We have a number of volunteers have expressed interest in going this year, so we are contemplating how we can help. Are there any board members who might wish to attend?
  - Early registration for NFCB member organizations is $325 each for the first two registrants, and $250 for each additional registrant. The early registration deadline is March 2.
  - The conference hotel is the Sheraton New Orleans. All rooms are $129 per night plus tax (currently 13%) + $3 occupancy tax per night. This rate is guaranteed to rooms booked before March 20. We will also inquire with the host station, WWOZ, about home hospitality.
  - If any board members are interested in attending please let me know.

- Radio for People:
  - The Federal Communications Commission is preparing to open a five-day window for not-for-profit organizations to apply for new, full power non-commercial educational radio frequencies. Full power station licensing has been frozen since 2000. Radio for People is a grassroots organization endeavoring to assist in the creation of more community radio stations.
  - The NFCB is participating in this and has solicited KOPN’s assistance in Missouri. Attached is an article concerning this project.
  - More information is available at http://radioforpeople.org/.

- We received this email today.
  - Subject: [NFCB] President’s FY2008 Budget Request for CPB (Posted on behalf of Pat Harrison, CEO of the Corp for Public Broadcasting)

Dear Colleagues:

Today, the President submitted his Fiscal Year 2008 budget to Congress, recommending the following for the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB): a $50 million rescission from the $400 million already appropriated by Congress for FY 2008; no advance appropriation for FY 2010; and no additional funding in FY 2008 for digital conversion or upgrades to the Public Radio Satellite System (although CPB would be permitted to use a portion of its FY 2008 regular appropriation for these purposes). In addition, the president proposed to fund Ready To Learn (RTL) at $24 million in FY 2008, a slight decrease from the current fiscal year. If enacted, these FY 2008 funding levels would represent a nearly 25 percent reduction from CPB’s FY 2007 levels, and would be felt in all CPB programs, including station CSGs.

These recommendations are similar to those made by the President last year, and as last year, they represent only the beginning of a long appropriations process in which Congress will consider the needs of public broadcasters. Congress is now completing work on the FY2007 appropriation. We are encouraged by the House action last week that would provide an advance appropriation for FY 2009 as well as additional funds for digital conversion and television interconnection.

This week, CPB will be transmitting its request to Congress for an advance appropriation for FY 2010 as well as funding for digital conversion, radio interconnection and Ready To Learn for FY 2008. CPB, PBS, NPR and APTS look forward to discussing our appropriations request with the new Congress and to working with both the House and Senate as this process moves forward.

Program Committee Report:

Hi all,

Jules, Woody, and I had a very informal "meeting" last night. We talked about the need to get the new Programmers' Handbook out to all the programmers and the need for all programmers to understand that there actually is a programming committee now and that they need to run any changes in the schedule through the committee in the future (it seems people have just been passing shows along to friends or changing genres at will).

Jules talked some about the need to have people follow the formal process that is laid out clearly in the manual. Woody and I agreed that there should be a fair and transparent process that everyone follows (of course, that will mean that we actually have to be there for people to present ideas to). We also came up with a tentative agenda for the next meeting.

Please feel free to add to this agenda. Next meeting is Feb. 6, 2007 at 7:00 pm (as always, the first Tues of the month). See you all there!

Hi,

Sure. Since the October report the project has:

* Received the first 90% of the Office of Cultural Affairs grant and started reformatting tapes for this grant.
* Continued to receive generous donations from Diane Rodgers. With this money the project has focused on reformatting many of our oldest local issue tapes.
* Significantly updated and modified the project website (Thanks to Charlie Turner for his help with this)
* Started plans for Black History Month and Women’s History Month. We plan to re-air various programs, and also have certain programs available on the website for the duration of the month. (Note: If any programmers are interested in being involved they can email me at jk.kimball@mchsi.com)
* Continued cataloging of various programs.
* Received plans for donations from the Peace Studies Program at Mizzou to reformat Peace Issues tapes and from David Owens to reformat a local voices tape.

Jennifer Kimball
Dear Ellin, David, and Jeanne,

I am writing to advise you of the fact that I am resigning from my role as producer/director of the J.W. "Blind" Boone Ragtime & Early Jazz Festival—an event that I created ten years ago. Prior to that time ragtime events under my direction were simply individual evening concerts.

It’s been a wonderful run and my memories of it all continue to fill me with pleasure.

Regrettably, however, this year—actually beginning with the conclusion of the 2006 Festival—interaction at the station related to the production of another festival has been contentious and, at times, even adversarial. Production of the Festival requires much of my time and effort. My total compensation is the intrinsic reward of experiencing the annual event itself. Since interaction at the station can no longer be described as cooperative, I resign from my efforts at KOPN/New Wave Corporation.

The grant proposal I wrote to the City of Columbia Convention and Visitors Bureau (CVB) for Tourism Development funds to assist in paying for performers’ participation in a planned 2007 event resulted in a contract with the CVB in the amount of $15,000. Both Laura Steiner, CVB Director, and Antonio Holland, Treasurer of the John William Boone Heritage Foundation—the Festival’s co-sponsoring organization, have asked that you advise them of your intentions regarding the execution of the 2007 CVB contract.

Best wishes, always,
Lucille

By Dave Bradley and Trish Nelson

This group recently had a conference call today to discuss how to expand radio frequencies. I look hearing from Trish and Dave as to how this went.

I am contacting you to ask your organization to help bring full-power community radio to your town and to join with other organizations and the Radio for People Coalition to help expand the power and reach of community-based radio.

Be the media. It will soon be possible. The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) is preparing to open a five-day window for organizations like yours to apply for new, FULL POWER non-commercial educational (NCE) radio frequencies.

We have met with an engineer who believes stations could broadcast very close to Iowa City, Des Moines and the Quad Cities, as well as other parts of eastern Iowa. Our next step is to commission a study to determine just where the stations will be. He has agreed to do a massive swath of Iowa at a discounted rate. Normally just one of these studies can run as high as $500. This is truly a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.

Full power station licensing has been frozen since 2000. So, this is a brief and rare opportunity for your organization to acquire a powerful media resource, one that is not likely to come again in the foreseeable future.

The channels allocated in this window are designated as non-commercial educational stations. You cannot apply as an individual. The applicant must be an organization with an educational mission; however, you do not need 501(c)3 (tax exempt) status to qualify.

Radio for People is a national coalition of grassroots independent media groups, lawyers, radio engineers, radio stations, free media advocates, professional associations, social justice activists, and many other concerned individuals. We have joined together for the single purpose of helping you. If you want to build a radio station to give voice to issues, promote public discourse, and enrich community life, we will help you, every step of the way.

For more information about application requirements, costs, and the help Radio for People is offering, contact www.radioforpeople.org.

To get involved in our efforts in Iowa, you can email Trish or Dave at the contact info below. To learn more about the Midwestern campaign, you can email Gabriel Piemonte at gabrielpiemonte@hotmail.com Or, if you know of another organization who might be ready to start its own community radio station, please forward this email.

Independent media is built on community participation and grassroots organizing. Soon, you could bring this resource to your town. Help strengthen community media. Help spread the word. And Radio for People will help you to be the media.
